Chill Out Spaces for Adults and Youth

Jamboree can be a rough time, not only for youth but also for adults. You're away from home and familiar routines for almost 2 weeks, you're busy for that whole time, you have to socialise with lots and lots of people you don't know, and spend even more time with people you may have only met a couple of times.

It's important to take care of yourself physically and mentally!

Jamboree organisers recognise this and there will be chill out centres for both adults and youth. They're located next to the pavilion building, and down in the old fire station and staffed all day and overnight. If you need to take some time out for yourself, please make use of these wonderful spaces to relax and recharge.

Quick Notices from JMT

- Maps are now on the website!

A Last Note from the Jamboree Director

After almost three years preparing for this Jamboree, we are now a week away from Scouts arriving for the biggest adventure of their Scouting lives.

I've been at the Jamboree site in the last few days, checking in with the fabulous and hard-working team getting set up for D-Day. There is a significant amount of effort that goes into setting up all the activities, printing more than 4,000 id cards, making all of the purchases requires for activities, setting up the retail space, filling a warehouse with food for the first few days of the Jamboree and getting toilets, showers and wastewater traps set up.

The great news is all of this is coming together well, the site is looking amazing. To recognise that the effort that's gone into, before getting to Jamboree, I'd like every Scout to practice saying one word, Thank You! You can use this word every time you're talking to the Leaders with your Troop and whenever you see a Venturer or Adult Staff member. You can never say this enough!

Merry Christmas to everyone and see you at Jamboree!

Yours In Scouting,

Guy Beatson
Jamboree Director
